Demo scena 1980-1992. I-L

Invisible fields

Goth rock sastav Invisible fields nastao je početkom 1991. godine u Sarajevu. Krajem 1991. godine band u sastavu Neir Kilalić Neno, vokal, Ognjen Šavija Tašo, gitara i prateći vokal, Maja Bojanić, klavijature, Dejan Bojanić, bas i Ranko Milanović Blank, bubnjevi uz pomoć Zlaje Hadžića (koji je programirao ritam mašinu) snimio je demo za pjesme Ovdje i Iščeznuće. Pjesme su u februaru 1992. objavljene na kompilaciji Killjoy male diskografske kuće Black and White Tapes koja je dva mjeseca kasnije prestala sa radom. Članovi su se mijenjali više puta a u kasnijoj fazi rada su se priključili udruženju Ambrosia kao glazbeni projekat udruženja.

Goth rock band Invisible Fields was formed at the beginning of 1991 in Sarajevo. At the end of 1991, a band consisting of Neir Kilalić Neno (vocals), Ognjen Šavija Tašo (guitar and backing vocals), Maja Bojanić (keyboards) Dejan Bojanić (bass) and Ranko Milanović Blank (drums) with the help of Zlaja Hadžić (who programmed the rhythm machine) recorded demos for the songs "Here" and "Disappearing". The songs were released in February 1992 on the Killjoy Compilation by the small record label Black and White Tapes, which ceased operations two months later. The members changed several times, and in the later phase of their work they joined the association Ambrosia as a musical project of the association.

IRA

IRA je mlada sarajevska grupa koja je djelovala početkom devedesetih. Glazbeno je bila na tragu U2 i EKV, a posebnu su pozornost izazivali tekstovima koji su nadilazili potrebu za tim da se tek „nešto kaže" uz muziku.

IRA was a young group from Sarajevo active in the early 1990s. Musically, the band followed U2 and EKV, and it attracted special attention with lyrics that went beyond the need to just "say something" along the music.

Kako kad

Hard rock grupa Kako kad postojala je od 1977. do 1980. godine u sastavu gitarista Muhamed Ražanica, basista Miralem Brodović, klavijaturista Srđan Dalagija, gitarista Sretko Vujić, bubnjar Ramiz Kolar i pjevač Mario Leko. Ramiza je uskoro zamijenio Kemo Šehbajraktarević, Marija Mladen Vojičić Tifa, a Sretka Davor Ilić. U posljednjoj postavi, Tifu je zamijenio Amir Bešo Lazy koji je pjevao i svirao gitaru. U zvuku se osjetio utjecaj grupa poput Allman Brothers Band i Wishbone Ash sa lijepim gitarskim međuigrama.

The hard rock group Kako Kad (It Depends) existed from 1977 to 1980, consisting of Muhamed Ražanica (guitar), Miralem Brodović (bass), Srđan Dalagija (keyboard), Sretko Vujić (guitar), Ramiz Kolar (drums) and Mario Leko (vocals). Ramiz was soon replaced by Kemo Šehbajraktarević, Mario by Mladen Vojičić Tifa and Sretko by Davor Ilić. In the last lineup, Tifa was replaced by Amir Bešo Lazy who sang and played guitar. The sound was influenced by groups like the Allman Brothers Band and Wishbone Ash with nice guitar interludes.

Kalevala

Kalevala je jedan od sastava koji su djelovali krajem osamdesetih godina u Sarajevu. Svirao je u CDA skupa s brojnim vršnjačkim bendovima, nastupio na Soldatskom balu 1987. i bio dijelom festivala „Nove nade nove snage". Pjesma Vatrene noći predstavlja ovaj bend na Diskotonovoj kompilacijskoj kaseti. Članovi Kalevale su bili Melinda Džano, vokal, Darko Đunisijević, gitara, Dražen Vlahović, klavijature, Sabahudin Pleho, bas i Predrag Suvajac, bubnjevi.

Kalevala was one of the bands that worked in Sarajevo at the end of the eighties. It played at CDA together with numerous bands of its peers, performed at "Soldatski bal" in 1987 and was part of the "Nove Nade, Nove Snage" festival. The song "Vatrene noći" ("Fiery Nights") represented this band on Diskoton's compilation cassette. The members of Kalevala were Melinda Džano (vocals), Darko Đunisijević (guitar), Dražen Vlahović (keyboards), Sabahudin Pleho (bass) and Predrag Suvajac (drums).

Konvoj

Grupa Konvoj nastala je 1988. godine u sastavu Hamdija Hamo Salihbegović, gitara, Muamer Đozo, bas, Mirsad Krupalija, bubnjevi i Davor Ebner, vokal. Melodične rock pjesme, lijepe međuigre gitare i basa, te zvonki vokal i zapažen scenski nastup Davora Ebnera ulazili su u uho na prvo slušanje, pa ne čudi da je Konvoj na festivalu „Nove nade nove snage" osvojio prvo mjesto. Nagrada je bila snimanje albuma koji, nažalost, nikad nije ugledao svjetlo dana jer je Davor napustio Konvoj kako bi postao pjevač Regine. Zamijenio ga je Nedeljko Čalija. Kako personalne promjene tako i ratna zbivanja omele su Konvoj da već u prvim godinama postojanja snimi album i na isti se čekalo do 1997. godine. U međuvremenu su Hamo i Đozo postali majstori svojih instrumenata. Više o Konvoju će biti prezentovano na jednoj od planiranih izložbi Ex-Yu Rock Centra.

The band Konvoj (Convoy) began in 1988 with Hamdija Hamo Salihbegović (guitar), Muamer Đozo (bass), Mirsad Krupalija (drums) and Davor Ebner (vocals). Melodic rock songs, beautiful interludes of guitar and bass, and notable vocal and stage performances of Davor Ebner were catchy, so it was not a surprise when Konvoj won first place at the "Nove Nade, Nove Snage" festival. The reward was the recording of an album which, unfortunately, never happened because Davor left Konvoj to become the singer of Regina. He was replaced by Nedeljko Čalija. Both personnel changes and the war prevented Konvoj from recording an album in the first years of its existence, which happened only in 1997. In the meantime, Hamo and Đozo became masters of their instruments. Much more about Konvoj will be presented at future exhibitions of the Ex-Yu Rock Centar.

La banda

Koncem osamdesetih, grupa La banda bila je dijelom sarajevske alter scene. Iako su imali autorske kompozicije i pripremali snimke za eventualni album, rat je poremetio planove i od albuma nije bilo ništa. Bend se, sticajem okolnosti, razišao i članovi su završili u različitim državama. Postojao je nagovještaj reuniona početkom dvijehiljaditih, ali nemamo dokaze da je rezultirao ozbiljnim radom i novim snimcima.

In the late eighties, the group La Banda was part of Sarajevo's alternative scene. Although it had original songs and was in preparation for recording an album, the war disrupted the plans and the album was not recorded. Due to circumstances, the band broke up and the members ended up in different countries. There was a hint of a reunion at the beginning of the 2000s, but there is no evidence that it resulted in serious work and new recordings.

Letu štuke

Grupa Letu štuke nastala je 1986. godine kao skupina sarajevskih srednjoškolaca koji su naginjali ka novovalnoj sceni. Dino Šaran, vokal, Nedim Sinanović, gitara i vokal, Đani Pervan, bubnjevi i Alan Omerović, bas vježbali su u CDA i vrijedno pripremali pjesme („Vučji san", „Kiše", „Kao na zapad", „Zmajevi") nadajući se snimanju albuma. I baš kada su se izborili za status jedne od demo atrakcija, jedna prometna nesreća, odlasci na odsluženje vojnog roka, a nedugo zatim i početak rata doveli su do okončanja prve faze Štuka i raspada benda. U tom se ludom vremenu nije moglo predvidjeti da li će ikada nastaviti sa radom. Na sreću fanova, Dinin autorski potencijal nije moglo zadovoljiti skladanje za druge autore (iako mu je u Hrvatskoj lijepo krenulo) i bend je obnovljen u nešto izmijenjenom sastavu. Demo status ostao je u predratnom periodu, a o uzlaznoj putanji poslijeratne karijere bit će više detalja na narednoj izložbi Ex-Yu Rock Centra.

The band Letu Štuke (Flying Stukas) was created in 1986 as a group of high school students from Sarajevo interested in the new wave scene. Dino Šaran (vocals), Nedim Sinanović (guitar and vocals), Đani Pervan (drums) and Alan Omerović (bass) practiced at CDA and prepared songs – such as "Vučji san" (Wolf's Dream), "Kiše" (Rains), "Kao na zapad" ("Like to the West") and "Zmajevi" ("Dragons") – with hopes to record an album. Just when they reached the status of one of the demo attractions, a traffic accident, military service and, not long after that, the beginning of the war led to the end of the first phase of Letu Štuke and the breakup of the band. In that time, it was impossible to predict whether the band would ever continue to work. Fortunately for the fans, Dino's creative talent could not be satisfied by composing for other musicians (although he did well with this in Croatia) and the band was renewed after the war with a slightly changed composition. There will be more details about the post-war career of Letu Štuke at future exhibitions of the Ex-Yu Rock Centar.

Lezi majmune

Začeci grupe Lezi majmune datiraju iz 1990. godine, kada su snage udružili Sanjin Latifić Lutvo (vokal) i Dejan Dučić Deša (gitara). Lutvo i Deša su, uz malu pomoć prijatelja, snimili nekoliko demo snimaka u studiju Zlaje Hadžića. Pred sami rat, u februaru 1992., snimci numera „Fresh" „Your Memory", „Ready for Retirement" i „Knights of Leisure" objavljeni su na kompilaciji Killjoy male diskografske kuće Black and White Tapes koja je dva mjeseca kasnije prestala sa radom. Prije toga su uspjeli prodati svega nekoliko kaseta tako da je kompilaciju Killjoy iznimno teško pronaći. O Lezi majmune bit će više riječi na narednoj izložbi Ex-Yu Rock Centra.

The beginnings of the group Lezi Majmune were in 1990, when Sanjin Latifić Lutvo (vocals) and Dejan Dučić Deša (guitar) joined forces. Lutvo and Deša, with a little help from friends, recorded several demos in the studio of Zlaja Hadžić. Before the war, in February 1992, recordings of the tracks "Fresh Your Memory", "Ready for Retirement" and "Knights of Leisure" were released on the Killjoy Compilation of the small record label Black and White Tapes, which ceased operations two months later. Before that, they only managed to sell a few cassettes, so the Killjoy Compilation is extremely hard to find. More on Lezi Majmune will be presented at future exhibitions of the Ex-Yu Rock Centar.

Ludilo

Na prelazu osamdesetih u devedesete, grupa Ludilo žestoko je predstavljala tuzlansku metal scenu. Za razliku od velikog broja domaćih metal bendova, Ludilo je pretežno pjevalo na maternjem jeziku, a glazbeno se metal bučno i ultrabrzo prelamao kroz hardcore i thrash. Bend je pokazivao znake duhovitosti i originalnosti (materijal od 8 numera objavljen na kazeti je nazvan Čoban tjera monstrume). Redovito je nastupao na Heavy Metal Festu u Sarajevu kao i na novosadskom Metal Attack-u, a na svirke su ih pratili odani fanovi. Frontman Rade Lukić nesebično se davao na sceni što ga je činilo lokalnim metal herojem. Pored Radeta, dio Ludila su bili giratisti Đani Perčić i Senad Čombe Čobeljić, basist Semir Sema Jašarević i bubnjar Saša Sale Đokić. Kroz bend su prošli i basist Almir Mulaosmanović Baggy, te bubnjar Nikola Brajović. Perčić i Jašarević više nisu među živima, a nije ni bend.

At the end of the 1980s and early 1990s, the group Ludilo (Insanity) fiercely represented the Tuzla metal scene. Unlike a large number of local metal bands, Ludilo mostly sang in their native language. In terms of music, its metal was noisy and ultra-fast, breaking through hardcore and thrash. The band showed signs of wit and originality (the 8-track material released on cassette was called Čoban tjera monstrume – The Shepherd Chases Away the Monsters). Ludilo regularly performed at the Heavy Metal Fest in Sarajevo as well as at Metal Attack in Novi Sad, and loyal fans followed the bands to shows. Frontman Rade Lukić gave his best on stage which made him a local metal hero. In addition to Rade, Ludilo included Đani Perčić (guitar), Senad Čombe Čobeljić (guitar), Semir Sema Jašarević (bass) and Saša Sale Đokić (drums). Bassist Almir Mulaosmanović Baggy and drummer Nikola Brajović also played in the band. Perčić and Jašarević are no longer alive and neither is the band.
