Demo scena 1980-1992. S-T

Strogo povjerljivo

Osamdesetih godina u Banjaluci djelovao je bend basiste Gorana Ratkovića Gogsona konspirativnog imena Strogo povjerljivo. Pored Gogsona, u bendu su tokom godina bili Željko Karalić Kara, vokal, gitaristi Ameris Osmančević i Adis Kušmić, klavijaturisti Zlatan Jusufagić i Edo Bosnić, a bubnjari su se najviše mijenjali - Ferid Kurijak, Zlatan Čizmić i Nenad Mikić. Napravili su nekoliko demo snimaka u studiju „Plazma”. Momci su 1982. svirali u Skenderiji na manifestaciji „Mladost Sutjeske”, sudjelovali na festivalu "Nove nade nove snage", kao i na brojnim gitarijadama po bivšoj Jugoslaviji, a vrhunac karijere im je bio učešće na "MAK festu" u Skopju, jednom od najvećih jugoslovenskih festivala zabavne muzike, oktobra 1987. godine.

Šala

Krajem osamdesetih Muhamed Muki Trnka formirao je bend koji se zvao Šala. S njim su svirali Vuca i Alen koji su nakon raspada benda formirali Sarajevski atentat, a Muki je nešto kasnije formirao Erogene zone.

Tačno vrijeme

Sarajevski pop rock bend Tačno vrijeme postojao je početkom osamdesetih godina. Nevad Hadžić kasnije je skladao narodnu muziku za različite autore, a danas živi u Sydneyu, Australija.

Terra

Grupa Terra postojala je krajem osamdesetih/početkom devedesetih godina. Njeni članovi su bili Robert Marković, vokal, Saša Tešanović, klavijature, Zoran Blagojević, bas, Mirsad Lika, bubnjevi i Davor Somer, gitara. Pjesma Krvave parnice našla se na Diskotonovoj kasetnoj kompilaciji „Nove nade nove snage” iz 1989. godine budući da je Terra sudjelovala na istoimenom festivalu.

The Mentols

Punk/new wave grupa The Mentols formirana je 1989. godine u sastavu Slava - glas, Boris - solo gitara, Roba - bas, Mlađo - bubnjevi, Žanko - ritam gitara i napravila je 7 pjesama koje se mogu poslušati na internetu jer to je, nažalost, sve što je ostalo iza ovog energičnog benda.

Tudeh

The Project Tudeh je bio sarajevski post/HC punk band, aktivan od 1985 do 1986 godine u sastavu Dražen Hasanagić, gitara, Alexandar Pelicatić, vokal, Dragomir Križić – bas i vokal i Amir Krupalija – bubnjevi. Za svojeg kratkog postojanja band je bio predgrupa Basdansu (Banja Luka), Dr.Kontradiciju i sarajevskoj alter zvijezdi SCH.

Tina

Sarajevsku pop rock grupu Tina, koja je nastala početkom osamdesetih, činili su Igor Ivanović, Dražen Žerić i Tihomir Loza. Sastav je nastupao u lokalnim prostorima kao što su Sloga, Trasa, Art klub Bjelave, a najviše je zapamćen po tome što je bio jedan od onih koji su se raspali da bi se formirala Crvena jabuka.

Tiran bar

Tiran bar je srednjoškolska grupa koja je nastala početkom osamdesetih od dječaka iz Prve gimnazije u Sarajevu i, koliko god nije ostavila ni zvučni ni pisani trag svog postojanja, bila je odskočna daska u kasnijem formiranju alternativnih bendova koji su značili više na lokalnoj sceni.

Top

Grupu Top (prvobitno formirana pod imenom Stop, ali se „S” ubrzo izgubilo) formirao je Narcis Lalić 1980. godine. Glazbeno opredjeljenje je bilo hard rock, a članovi su, pored Narcisa, bili Aco Šimpraga, solo gitara, Deni Peterković, ritam gitara, Nermin Dedić Fićo, bas i Nenad Đuričić, bubnjevi. Ova postava je održavala probe i nastupala u tadašnjem Domu pionira na Grbavici. Narednih godina su se ekipi pridružili Nihad Ajanović umjesto Denija, Zlatan Čehić je prešao iz grupe Paradox da zamijeni Fiću, a Davor Ilić i Mladen Vojičić Tifa su prešli iz grupe Kako kad. Do Narcisovog odlaska u JNA, grupa je imala dva pjevača, Narcisa i Tifu, a na kraju se Narcis iz JNA nije ni vratio u matični bend. Kasnije je bubnjeve preuzeo Veso Grumić, a Jasko Pitić bas. U postavi sa Tifom, Top je sudjelovao na festivalu Omladina '83. u Subotici i dobio nagradu za najbolju interpretaciju, a imao je i zapažene nastupe u Sarajevu (Dom mladih, Sloga). Posebno popularna bila je pjesma Ima li iko, a momci su napravili i pjesmu za tada popularnu omladinsku emisiju Nedjeljni zabavnik. Pamtljiv vokal, autorske pjesme i čvrsta, energična svirka otvarali su vrata na sve strane, ali... Konačnom raspadu perspektivnog benda kumovao je Goran Bregović ponudivši Tifi mikrofon u Bijelom dugmetu. Čeha je završio u Divljim jagodama, Narcis u Teškoj industriji i u godini najvećih uspjeha (1983.), Top je prestao sa radom.

Torpeda

Torpeda su jedini zapamćeni sarajevski rockabilly sastav koji je djelovao od 1986. godine do 03.04. 1992. uz dvogodišnju pauzu između stvarnog prestranka benda sa radom i oproštajnog koncerta pred sam početak rata u Bosni i Hercegovini. Sarajevom su se prvo raširili zanimljivi grafiti (poput „Ovuda su prošla Torpeda”, „Misli i vrisni – Torpeda”, „Slušaj i čuj – Torpeda”) tako da nije pogrešno reći kako je ovaj bend među prvima imao osmišljenu promotivnu taktiku – o Torpedima se pričalo i prije nego što su prvi put zasvirali. Kuriozitet je da je u ispisivanju grafita sudjelovao i Dino Kukavica, alias Teddy Wilson, koji je trebao biti dio Torpeda jer se tada intenzivno družio sa članovima benda, ali od toga nije bilo ništa jer nije znao ni svirati ni pjevati. Glazbeni izričaj Torpeda nije se bazirao na kopiranju zvuka pedesetih nego je bio energičan, svjež i oplemenjen kako melodičnim novovalnim tako i žestokim punk utjecajima. Posebno su bivali zapaženi na živim svirkama na kojima se isporučivala ogromna količina nepatvorene energije. Članovi Torpeda su bili Branko Krstulović – Krle, gitara, Vanja Hajduković, bas i vokal, Goran Miletić – Gogi bubnjevi, Amir Hadžiahmetović, gitara, te pokojni Dušan Kuzmanović – Dule, bubnjevi. Šteta što ovaj sjajni sastav nije iza sebe ostavio samostalni album (snimanje jeste počelo, ali nikad nije okončano) i što se samo pojavljuje na dvjema kompilacijama – subotičkoj Omladini '89. i splitskom „I-Demu” iz iste godine. Za utjehu su ostali televizijski i radijski snimci koji i danas pršte energijom.

Trout

Od grupe Trout, koja je u drugoj polovici osamdesetih vježbala u CDA i povremeno nastupala na skupnim svirkama i kao predgrupa poznatijim izvođačima nije ostalo ništa zabilježeno. Bilo bi nam drago da se članovi jave i popune rupu u sjećanju.

In the 1980s, bass player Goran Ratković Gogson formed a band with the conspiratorial name Strogo Povjerljivo (Strictly Confidential) in Banja Luka. In addition to Gogson, over the years the band included Željko Karalić Kara (vocals), Ameris Osmančević (guitar), Adis Kušmić (guitar), Zlatan Jusufagić (keyboards) and Edo Bosnić (keyboards). Drummers changed frequently: Ferid Kurijak, Zlatan Čizmić and Nenad Mikić all played at some point. They made several demo recordings in the "Plazma" studio. In 1982, the boys played in Skenderija at the event "Mladost Sutjeske" and participated at the "Nove Nade, Nove Snage" festival and at numerous guitar jams in the former Yugoslavia. The highlight of their career was participation in the "MAK Fest" in Skopje, one of the largest Yugoslav festivals of popular music, in October 1987.

At the end of the 1980s, Muhamed Muki Trnka formed a band called Šala (Joke). Vuca and Alen played with him, and after the breakup of the band, formed Sarajevski Atentat, and Muki later formed Erogen Zone.

The pop rock band Tačno vrijeme (Exact Time) existed in Sarajevo in the early 1980s. Nevad Hadžić later composed folk music for various musicians. Nowadays he lives in Sydney, Australia.

The band Terra existed in the late eighties/early nineties. Its members were vocalist Robert Marković, keyboardist Saša Tešanović, bassist Zoran Blagojević, drummer Mirsad Lika and guitarist Davor Somer. The song "Krvave parnice" was on Diskoton's cassette compilation "Nove Nade, Nove Snage" from 1989 as Terra participated in the festival of the same name.

The punk/new wave band The Mentols was formed in 1989 with the lineup of Slava on vocals, lead guitarist Boris, bassist Roba, drummer Mlađo, and rhythm guitarist Žanko. The band's seven songs can be found online. Unfortunately, that's all that's left of this energetic band.

The Project Tudeh was a post/HC punk band from Sarajevo active from 1985 to 1986, consisting of Dražen Hasanagić (guitar), Alexandar Pelicatić (vocals), Dragomir Križić (bass and vocals) and Amir Krupalija (drums). During its short existence, the band was the opening act for Basdans (Banja Luka), Dr. Kontradicio and the Sarajevo alter star SCH.

The Sarajevo pop rock group Tina was formed in the early eighties, consisting of Igor Ivanović, Dražen Žerić, and Tihomir Loza. The group performed in local venues such as Sloga, Trasa, Art Club Bjelave, and is best remembered for being one of the groups which disbanded to form Crvena Jabuka.

Tiran Bar was a high school group that was formed in the early eighties by boys from Prva Gimnazija in Sarajevo and, as much as it left no sound or written trace of its existence, it was a springboard in the later formation of alternative bands that made more of an impact on the local scene.

The hard rock band Top (originally formed under the name Stop, but the "S" was soon lost) was formed by Narcis Lalić in 1980. Other members included lead guitarist Aco Šimpraga, rhythm guitarist Deni Peterković, bassist Nermin Dedić Fićo, and drummer Nenad Đuričić. This line-up held rehearsals and performed in what was then Dom Pionira (Pioneer House) at Grbavica. In the following years, Nihad Ajanović replaced Deni, Zlatan Čehić left Paradox to replace Fićo, and Davor Ilić and Mladen Vojičić Tifa moved from Kako Kad. The group had two singers until Narcis went to for his military service– Narcis and Tifa. In the end, Narcis did not return to the band after his JNA service. Later, Veso Grumić took over on drumz and Jasko Pitić took over on bass. In a line-up with Tifa, Top participated in the Omladina festival in 1983 in Subotica, winning the prize for the best interpretation. The band also had notable performances in Sarajevo in venues such as Dom Mladih and Sloga. The song "Ima li iko" was especially popular, and the guys also made a song for the popular youth TV show Nedjeljni Zabavnik. Memorable vocals, original songs and solid, energetic playing opened doors in all directions, but... The eventual breakup of the promising band was helped by Goran Bregović offering Tifa the microphone in Bijelo Dugme. Čeha ended up in Divlje Jagode, and Narcis in Teška Industrija. So, in the year of their greatest success (1983), Top ceased to exist.

Torpeda (Torpedoes) is the only remembered Sarajevo rockabilly band that worked from 1986 to April 3, 1992, with a two-year break between the actual cessation of the band's work and the farewell concert right before the start of the war in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Interesting graffiti spread through Sarajevo (such as "Ovuda su prošla Torpeda" ("Torpedoes were Here"), "Misli i vrisni – Torpeda" ("Think and Scream – Torpedoes"), "Slušaj i čuj – Torpeda" ("Listen and Hear – Torpedoes"), so it's not wrong to say that this band was one of the first to have a promotional tactic. Torpeda were talked about even before they played for the first time. It is interesting that Dino Kukavica, alias Teddy Wilson, who was supposed to be a part of Torpeda because he was intensively hanging out with the band members, took part in the writing of the graffiti, but it would have been useless because he could neither play nor sing. The musical expression of Torpeda was energetic, fresh and refined with both melodic new wave and fierce punk influences. They were especially noticed at live gigs where they delivered a huge amount of pure energy. The members of Torpeda were Branko Krstulović – Krle (guitar), Vanja Hajduković (bass and vocals), Goran Miletić - Gogi (drums), Amir Hadžiahmetović (guitar), and the late Dušan Kuzmanović – Dule (drums). It's a shame that this great band didn't leave behind an album (recording did start, but was never completed) and that it only appears on two compilations – Omladina '89 from Subotica and I-Demo from Split from the same year. For consolation, there are television and radio recordings that are still bursting with energy.

The band Trout, which in the second half of the eighties practiced at CDA and occasionally performed at group gigs and as a support group for better-known performers, has no recorded material.
