Ambasadori...

Ambasadori

Ambasadori su zvanično nastali 1968. godine i u početku bili vojni orkestar koji je svirao obrade tuđih pjesama. Vođa sastava je bio Slobodan Vujović koji će kasnije dugi niz godina obavljati ulogu glavnog urednika u izdavačkoj kući Diskoton. Bili su poznati po kvalitetnoj duvačkoj sekciji koja je davala specifičnu boju njihovom zvuku. U toj sekciji su se nalazili Andrej Stefanović i Krešimir Vlašić i njih dvojica, uz Vujovića, bili su jedini članovi grupe koji se pojavljivali u svim postavama. Takođe su ostali upamćeni po kvalitetnim vokalnim solistima. Jedno vrijeme sa njima je nastupao kao pjevač i Zdravko Čolić, a najduže se u grupi zadržala Ismeta Dervoz. Ona je bila zaštitni znak grupe u periodu od 1972 – 1976.godine i u tom vremenu nastaje niz velikih hitova ovog sastava. Vrijedi pomenuti pjesme "Ne mogu skriti svoju bol", "Budi s njim", "Noćas mi se pjesma piše", a ubjedljivo najveći hit u toku karijere bila je pjesma Kemala Montena "Zemljo moja".

Godine 1976 Ambasadori predastavljaju Jugoslaviju na izboru za Pjesmu Evrovizije. Kada Ismeta Dervoz kreće vodama solo karijere na mjesto vokalnog soliste u Ambasadorima dolazi Jasna Gospić. Sa ovom tadašnjom srednjoškolkom oni se priklanjaju nešto modernijem zvuku, više se okreću klasičnom popu i bilježe nekoliko velikih hitova od kojih je najveći "Dođi u pet do pet".

Ni Jasna Gospić se nije dugo zadržala u Ambasadorima i pred turneju ove grupe po Sovjetskom Savezu oni ponovo ostaju bez vokalnog soliste. Odlučuju se ovoga puta za muški vokal i iz grupe Zov dolazi mladi i perspektivni Hari Varešanović. Sa njim snimaju jedan album i nekoliko singlova da bi početkom osamdesetih godina i odlaskom Harija u vojsku grupa prestala sa radom. Kroz grupu su ,tokom svih tih godina, uz pomenute prošli još Andrej Stefanović, Enes Bajramović, Nazif Dinarević, Ivan Vinković, Neven Pocrnjić, Perica Stojanović, Miroslav Šaranović, Sead Avdić i Vlado Pravdić. Osnivač grupe Slobodan Vujović preminuo je 15.07.2019.godine, a Krešimir Vlašić je preminuo u Sarajevu 29.11.2018.godine.

Svi pjevači Ambasadora kasnije su ostvarili zavidnu solo karijeru. U proljeće 2018.godine još jednom su se sva četiri pjevača okupili i snimili pjesmu Zlatana Fazlića Fazle "Trebević opet silazi u grad" u povodu ponovnog otvaranja sarajevske žičare.

COD

COD – Priča o grupi COD mora se podijeliti u dva dijela. Prvi je od osnivanja pa sve do 1974.godine, a drugi od dolaska u grupu kompozitora Enesa Bajramovića. U Sarajevu su ovu grupu osnovali Nenad Jurin, Džemo Novaković i Izidor Kajić. Kasnije će se grupi pridružiti i pjevač Selver Brdarić. Oni tada sviraju obrade svjetskih rock hitova i ne razmišljaju mnogo o autorskim radovima. Bajramović dolazi na Muzičku akademiju u Sarajevo. Jedno vrijeme radi sa Ipetom Ivandićem u grupi Rock, a počinje da svira trombon u plesnom orkestru RTV Sarajevo. U to vrijeme, sredinom sedamdesetih, kafana Park je bila stjecište sarajevskih rokera. Tu pada dogovor da se priključi grupi COD i ubrzo preuzima lidersku poziciju kod njih. A pokazuje se i kao sjajan autor. To dokazuju prva dva singla "Dođi mi na čaj" i "Ciciban". I kada se činilo da će grupa postati jedna od najpopularnijih po izlasku "Cicibana" 1976. godine sastav se raspada. Enes Bajramović odlazi na kratko u Ambasadore, Nenad Jurin postaje klavjaturista Indexa, a gitarista Đemo Novaković sreću potraži u pratećem sastavu Nede Ukraden. Tada u grupu COD dolaze Nedžad Čamdžić Džadžo i Krešimir Repić. Jedno vrijeme na mjestu pjevača ove grupe nalazili su se Željko Samardžić i Goran Gerin.

Bajramović se vratio krajem 1976.godine u COD. Taman na vrijeme da naprave novi hit singl "Novi štos". 1978. godine usljedio je album Bijeli bagremi koji je bio vrhunac njihove karijere. Ovaj album ujedno je bio i posljednji rad grupe COD. Nikada se više nisu okupili. Enes Bajramović je formirao grupu "Digi" i sa njima snimio album 1982.godine, ali bez nekog naročitog uspjeha. Tokom 2002.godine Bajramović je ponovo bio aktivan i pripremao je stare pjesme grupe COD za objavljivanje na CD formatu. Nakon boravka u Americi vratio se u Sarajevo i tu preminuo 25.03.2006.godine.

Pjevač grupe COD Selver Brdarić pokušao je napraviti i solo karijeru. Snimio je četiri singla od kojih je definitivno najpoznatija bila pjesma "Dio sunca" sa kojom je nastupio na festivalu "Vaš šlager sezone" 1978.godine. Selver Brdarić je preminuo 5.novembra 2010.godine.

Zdravko Čolić

Zdravko Čolić– Najveća pjevačka pop zvijezda na prostoru Jugoslavije. Karijeru je otpočeo u grupi, Mladi i lijepi, zatim u Ambasadorima, pa Korni grupi da bi od 1972.godine nastavio kao solista. U prvom dijelu karijere, sve tamo negdje do 1977.godine ime je gradio nastupima i pobjedama na brojnim festivalima. Predstavljao je Jugoslaviju na Pjesmi Eurovizije 1973. godine u Luxemburgu sa pjesmom "Gori vatra".

Vrhunac prvog dijela karijere je album Ako priđeš bliže iz 1978.godine kao i turneja koja je uslijedila. Objavio je 15 studijskih albuma, jedan zvanični koncertni te mnoštvo kompilacija i bootleg izdanja. U nekoliko navrata je prekidao muzilku karijeru, ali se uvijek vraćao. . Tokom 50 godina svoje solisticke karijere radio je sa brojnim vrhunskim authorima medju kojima treba pomenutih Kornelija Kovaca Kornelija Kovača, Gorana Bregovića. Arsena dedića, Kemala Montena, Bajagu, Balaševića, Ranka Bobana i mnoge druge.

Iza njega ostaje mnoštvo hitova kao što su Sinoć nisi bila tu,"Gori vatra", "Zvao sam je Emili", "April u Beogradu", "Glavo luda", "Zagrli me", "Pjevam danju, pjevam noću", "Pusti, pusti modu", "Mađarica", "Stanica Podlugovi", "Ti si mi u krvi", "Čija je ono zvijezda", "Čaje šukarije", "Ajde, ajde Jasmina", "Noć mi te duguje" i mnogi drugi.

Kamen na kamen

Kamen na kamen – Po svemu posebna grupa koja je djelovala u Sarajevu sedamdesetih godina prošloga vijeka. Osnovao ih je i predvodio Nikola Borota Radovan koji je u rock matricu uklopio i etno motive i epiku i književnost i revolucionarne i socijalne poruke. Prvi su revolucionarne pjesme uklopili u moderne aranžmane, a izmislili su i nešto što bi se moglo zvati "rockom udruženog rada".

Postepeno su se potpuno okrenuli tim temama NOB-a i udruženog rada i zanimljivo je da 1975.godine objavljuju dva singla za dvije diskografske kuće, a sa istom pjesmom. Kao Kamen na kamen su objavili pjesmu "Drugarice posadimo cvijeće" za sarajevski Diskoton,a istu pjesmu i za RTV Ljubljana, ali kao Neda Ukraden i Kamen na kamen. Grupa je te godine objavila i dvostruki album OOUR i A.V.N.O.J.. Nisu zapostavljali ni komercijalni etno zvuk i kao Neda Ukraden i Kamen na kamen nastupili su na festivalu u Opatiji gdje se 1975.godine birao predstavnik Jugoslavije za Pjesmu Evrovizije. Izvodili su pjesmu "Srce u srcu" i malo je nedostajalo da i pobijede. Nakon toga više se okreću toj verziji grupe i objavljuju nekoliko singlova i dva albuma. Posljednji 1977.godine, a onda prave pauzu sve do 1980.godine kada su nastupili na festivalu "Vaš šlager sezone" sa izuzetno uspješnom pjesmom "Jaranice".

The band Ambasadori was officially formed in 1968. Initially, it was a military orchestra playing covers. The leader of the band was Slobodan Vujović, who later worked as the editor-in-chief at the record company Diskoton. It was known for its quality brass section giving a specific colour to their sound. Andrej Stefanović and Krešimir Vlašić were in that section and the two of them, along with Vujović, were the only members of the band who appeared in all of the line-ups. The band was also remembered for its quality singers. For a while, Zdravko Čolić performed with them as a singer, while Ismeta Dervoz stayed in the band the longest. She was the trademark in the period from 1972 to 1976, and that time was marked with a number of the band's greatest hits. It is worth mentioning the songs "Ne mogu skriti svoju bol" ("I can't hide my pain"), "Budi s nijm" ("Be with Him"), "Noćas mi se pjesma piše" ("I'm Writing a Song Tonight"). By far the biggest hit during their career was the song "Zemljo moja" ("My land") by Kemal Monteno.

In 1976, the Ambasadori represented Yugoslavia at the "Eurovision Song Contest". When Ismeta Dervoz left for an independent career, Jasna Gospić became the singer in the Ambasadori. With this high school girl at the time, they leaned towards a more modern sound, classic pop, and recorded several hits, the biggest of which is "Dođi u pet do pet" ("Come at Five to Five").

Jasna Gospić did not stay long in the Ambasadori and before the band's tour in the Soviet Union, they were again without a singer. This time they decided to go with a male singer and the young and promising Hari Varešanović came from the band Zov (The Call). They recorded one album and several singles with him, but in the early 80s, when Hari left for the Army, the band ceased to exist. During all those years, Andrej Stefanović, Enes Bajramović, Nazif Dinarević, Ivan Vinković, Neven Pocrnjić, Perica Stojanović, Miroslav Saranović, Sead Avdić and Vlado Pravdić were members of the band at some point. The founder of the band, Slobodan Vujović, died on July 15, 2019, and Krešimir Vlašić died in Sarajevo on November 29, 2018.

All the singers of the Ambasadori later achieved enviable solo careers. In the spring of 2018, all four singers got together once more and recorded Zlatan Fazlić Fazla's song "Trebević opet silazi u grad" ("Trebević Comes to Town yet Again") for the reopening of the Sarajevo cable car.

The band COD's story must be divided into two parts. The first part was from its foundation until 1974, and the second started with the arrival of the composer Enes Bajramović to the band. The band was founded in Sarajevo by Nenad Jurin, Džemo Novaković and Izidor Kajić. Singer Selver Brdarić would join the band later on. At the time they played covers of world rock hits and didn't think much about original works. Bajramović enrolled in the Music Academy in Sarajevo and worked with Ipe Ivandić in the band Rock. He also started playing the trombone in the dance orchestra of the Radio Television Sarajevo. At the time, in the mid-70s, the Park bar was a meeting place for Sarajevo rockers. In that bar he agreed to join COD and very soon assumed a frontman position. He also proved to be a great author as visible by the two singles "Dođi mi na čaj" ("Come for a tea") and "Ciciban" ("The Goody"). When it seemed that the band would become one of the most popular after the release of "Ciciban" in 1976, the band fell apart. Enes Bajramović left for a short time to perform with the Ambasadori, Nenad Jurin became the keyboardist of Indexi, and guitarist Đemo Novaković became a member of the backup band for Neda Ukraden. Nedžad Čamdžić Džadžo and Krešimir Repić then joined COD. At one time, Željko Samardžić and Goran Gerin were the singers.

Bajramović returned to COD at the end of 1976. Just in time to make a new hit single "Novi štos" ("The New Trick"). In 1978, the album Bijeli Bagremi ("The White Acacias") was published and that was the peak of the band's career. This album was also the last work of COD. They never got together again. Enes Bajramović formed the band Digi and recorded an album with them in 1982 without any particular success. During 2002, Bajramović was active again preparing old songs of the COD for release on CD. After his stay in the US, he returned to Sarajevo and died there on March 25, 2006.

The singer of COD, Selver Brdarić tried to make a solo career. He recorded four singles, the most famous of which was definitely the song "Dio sunca" ("The Part of the Sun") performed at the "Vaš šlager sezone 1987" ("Your hit of the season 1978") festival. Selver Brdarić died on November 5, 2010.

Zdravko Čolić was the biggest singer and pop star in Yugoslavia. He started his career in the band Mladi i ljepi (The Young and Beautiful), followed by participation in the Ambasadori and Korni grupa (Korni Group). In 1972 he started a solo career. The first part of his career, until 1977, was used to build his name with performances and wins at numerous festivals. He represented Yugoslavia at the "Eurovision Song Contest in 1973" in Luxembourg with the song "Gori Vatra" ("The Fire is Burning").

The highlight of the first part of his career was the album Ako priđeš bliže (If you come closer) released in 1978, as well as the tour that followed. He released 15 studio albums, one official concert album and many compilations and bootleg releases. He interrupted his musical career on several occasions, but always returned. During his 50-year solo career, he worked with numerous top authors, including Kornelije Kovač, Goran Bregović, Arsen Dedić, Kemal Monteno, Momčilo Bajagić-Bajaga, Đorđe Balašević, Ranko Boban and many others.

His many hits include among other "Sinoć nisi bila tu" ("You Weren't Here Last Night"), "Gori vatra", "Zvao sam je Emili" ("I Called her Emily"), "April u Beogradu" ("April in Belgrade"), "Glavo luda" ("Crazy Head"), "Zagrli me" ("Hug me"), "Pjevam danju, pjevam noću" ("I Sing During the Day, I Sing at Night"), "Pusti, pusti modu" ("Let go, Let go of the Fashion"), "Mađarica" ("Hungarian Girl"), "Stanica Podlugovi" ("The Podlugovi Station"), "Ti si mi u krvi" ("You Are in my Blood"), "Čija je ono zvijezda" ("Whose Star is That"), "Čaje šukarije", "Ajde, ajde Jasmina" ("Come on, come on Jasmina"), "Noć mi te duguje" ("The night owes you to me") and many others.

Kamen na kamen was by all accounts a special band in Sarajevo in the 1970s. They were founded and led by Nikola Borota Radovan, who incorporated ethnic motifs, epics, literature, and revolutionary and social messages into their rock. They were the first to fit revolutionary songs into modern arrangements, and they also invented something that could be called the "rock of associated labor".

Over time they completely turned to the themes of the National Liberation Fight and associated labour. In 1975 they released two singles for two record companies, with the same song. As Kamen na kamen, they published the song "Drugarice posadimo cvijeće" ("Friends, we're planting flowers") for Sarajevo's "Diskoton", and the same song for Radio Television Ljubljana, but as Neda Ukraden i Kamen na kamen. The group also released a double album OOUR i A.V.N.O.J. (The Basic Organization of Associated Labour and the Anti-Fascist Council for the National Liberation of Yugoslavia) same year. They did not neglect the commercial ethnic sound either, and as Neda Ukraden i Kamen na kamen they performed at a festival in Opatija where in 1975 the representative of Yugoslavia was chosen for the "Eurovision Song Contest". They performed the song "Srce u srcu" ("Heart in a Heart") and almost won. After that, they turned more to that style of the group and released several singles and two albums. The last one was in 1977, followed by a break until 1980 when they performed at the festival "Vaš šlager sezone" ('Your biggest hit of the season") with the extremely successful song "Jaranice" ("Girlfriend").